Spring Supplement

As the 1979-1980 school year began, so did the entrance into a new decade. Students returned with feelings of expectancy which lasted as various occasions arose throughout the year. New faces accompanied by new personalities mixed easily with the familiar faces of faculty and student body to produce a feeling of school unity.

New members of the faculty added much to the school year. Specialized teachers for varying areas allowed many students to expand in different directions. With an untried outlook toward the athletic program, team members and coaches displayed a new enthusiasm which resulted in intensified team vigor.

As a whole, the student body entered the new year with willingness to change, improve, and diversify. Students responded eagerly to the new decade, the 1980's.

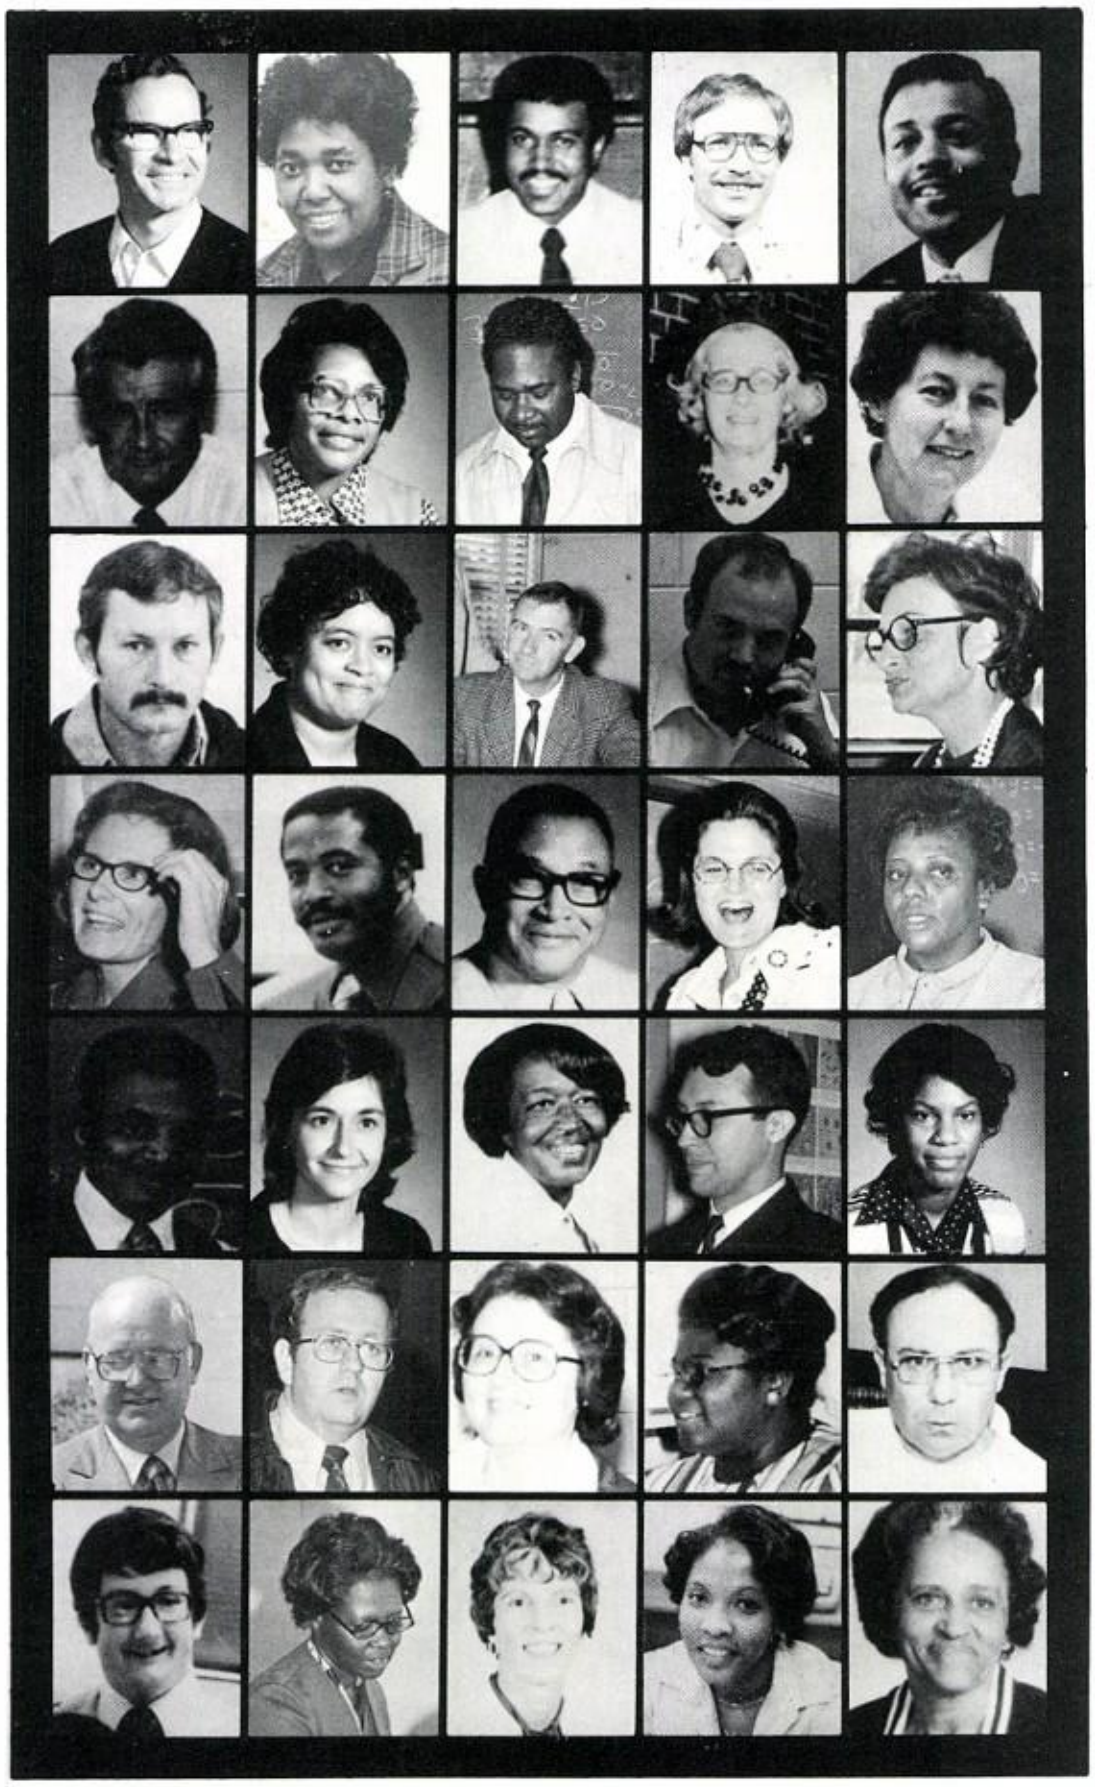
Miss Wallace-Rose Hill

Helen Faulk

Helen Faulk exemplified an active Wallace-Rose Hill through her many activities. She served her school well by being on the Student Council, by being a bus driver and by participating in many clubs. These activities allowed her to help her school and qualified her for the honor of Miss Wallace-Rose Hill.

Representing her school, Miss Wallace-Rose Hill gained the respect and friendship of her fellow classmates over the years. Selected by the senior class, Helen Faulk served as the 1979-1980 Miss Wallace-Rose Hill. Bestowed with this high tribute, Helen attended many functions and events as an honored representative of her school.



FACULTY

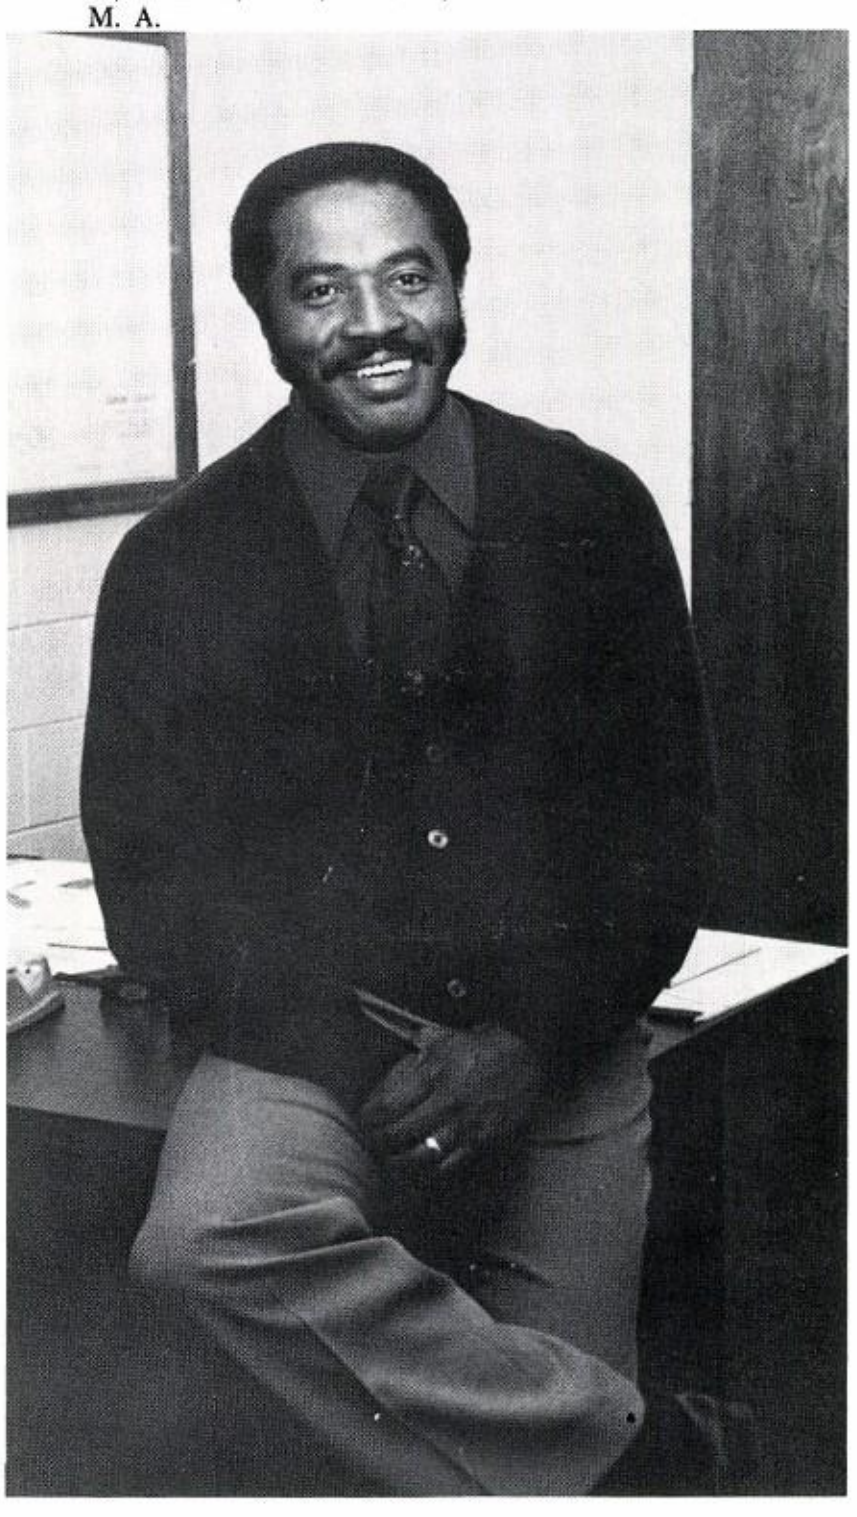
Administration uses skill in dealing with

Neal Carlton—Campbell, A. A.; A. C. C., B. A.; E. C. U., M. A.

David Jordan—N. C. C. U., B. S.

As Principal, Mr. Carlton had a very busy schedule. Organizing student schedules and dealing with daily problems were only a small part of his duties.

Assistant-principal Jordan worked hard to keep the school running smoothly. Running the bus system and handling discipline problems occupied most of his time.



Mr. David Jordan

Mr. Neal Carlton

a changing school

Faye Batts—Meredith; Hardbarger, Secretarial degree

Annette Richards

As head secretary, Mrs. Batts proved capable in her daily office duties. Bookkeeping and other secretarial work gave her a very busy schedule.

New to the Wallace-Rose Hill faculty, Mrs. Richards served well as assistant secretary.

Mrs. Faye Batts

Mrs. Annette Richards

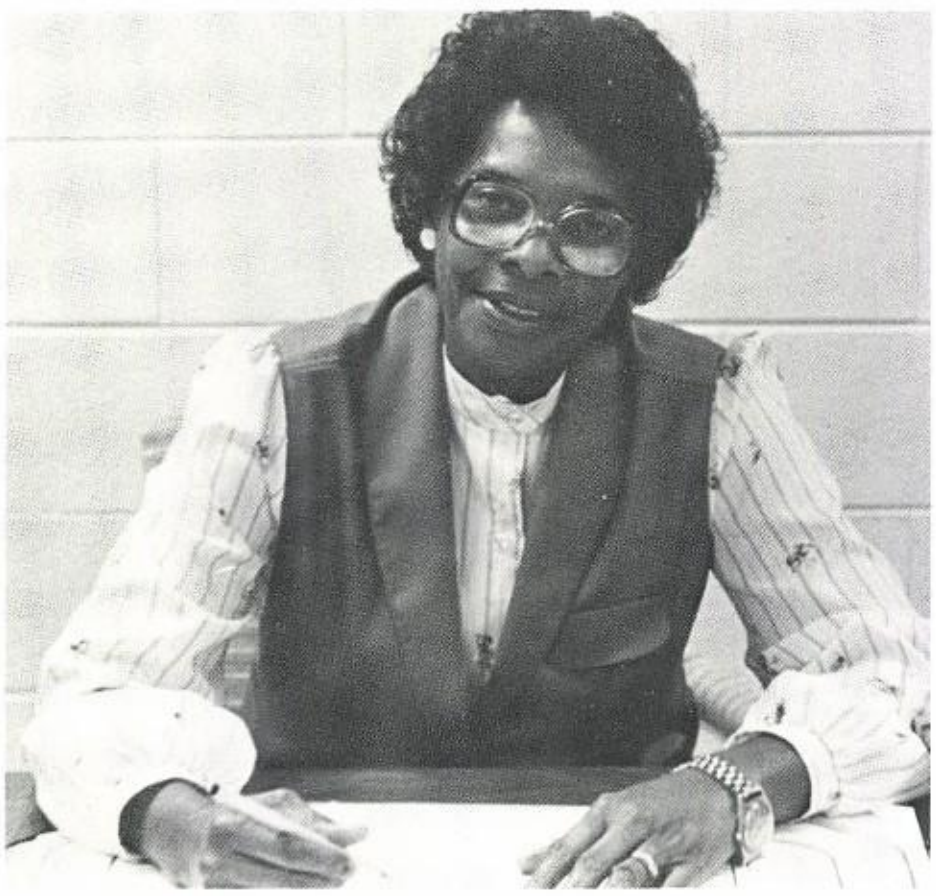
Advisors become important to seniors

Jessie Best—Shaw, B. A.; N. C. C. U., M. A.

Lauren Sharpe—W. F. U., A. B.; E. C. U., M. A.; Duke Divinity Sch.

Aiding underclassmen in various academic decisions, Mrs. Best performed her duties as guidance counselor well.

Willingly assisting students in college and career choices, Mr. Sharpe served as guidance counselor for the upperclassmen.



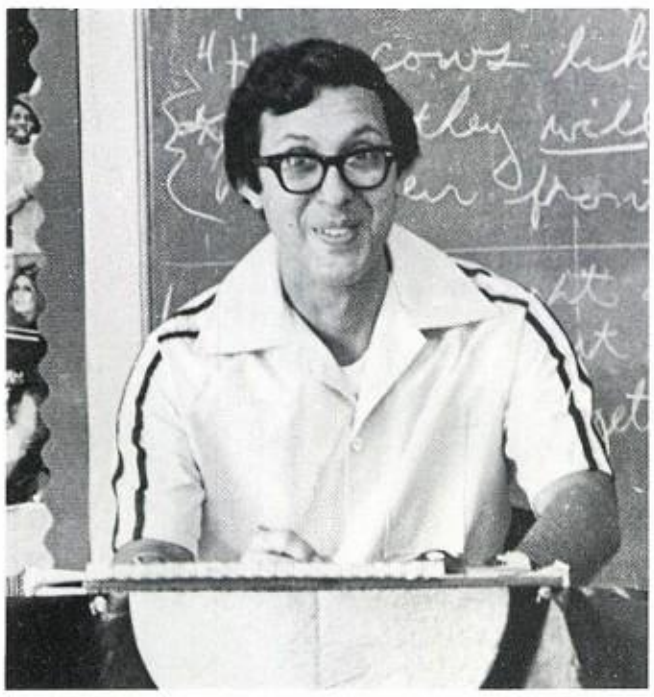
Mrs. Jessie Best

Mr. Lauren Sharpe

Inspiring teachers deserve honor

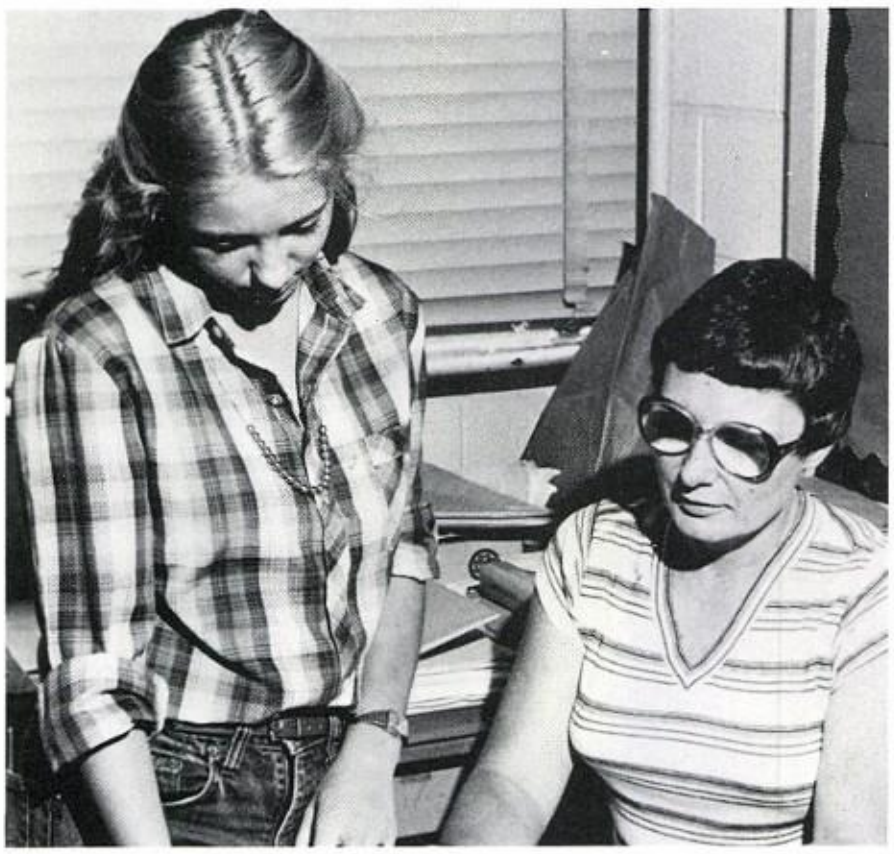
Mr. James Bowden, III—E. C. U., B. S.

Even though the Wallace-Rose Hill faculty undergoes constant change, some teachers seem to remain as landmarks in the students' eyes. Mr. James Bowden, who teaches English IV, was designated by the senior class as an outstanding educator for the school year. Mr. Bowden's easygoing manner, coupled with his knowledge of grammar and literature, made him a good choice for this honor.



Mrs. Vivian Boney—Shaw Univ., B. A.; N. C. C. U., M. A. Ed.

Because of their work as annual staff advisors for the past ten years, the staff of the 1980 REMINISCENCE would like to recognize Mrs. Vivian Boney and Mrs. Faye Sellers. Until this year, they had worked hard as advisors as well as teachers of English. In the past school year, Mrs. Boney taught English II and III, while Mrs. Sellers taught English I and II. The staff would like to thank them for their years of excellent work.



Mrs. Faye Sellers (R)—E. C. U., B. S.

English teachers form backbone of education

Enlightening pupils in English I and II, Mrs. Jones increased her student's knowledge with great dedication.

Displaying concern for her many students, Mrs. Glasgow revealed versatility as she taught English, drama, and journalism.

New to the Wallace-Rose Hill teaching staff, Mrs. Cottle capably taught English I, II, and IV.

Straightforward teaching methods were characteristic of Mr. Walters as he enlightened sophomores and juniors with his knowledge of English language.

Special teachers give needed assistance

An important member of the Wallace-Rose Hill faculty, Mrs. Riley worked with her pupils to establish reading proficiency.

An assistant in the reading lab, Mrs. Dykes proved knowledgeable in her field.

Instructing students in basic reading skills, Mrs. Carr was a definite asset to her students.

With an efficient manner, Mrs. Miller imparted reading skills to her students.

Mrs. Jo Riley—U. N. C. W., B. A.; A. S. U., M. A.

Mrs. Mary Dykes—Penn Univ., E. C. U.

Mrs. Carolyn Carr—Livingston, B. S.

Mrs. Hilda Miller

Motivation important to math teachers

With an unusual approach to teaching, Mrs. Sloan instructed pupils in geometry, Algebra II, and advanced mathematics.

Teaching consumer mathematics, Mrs. Carawan extended her students' knowledge of mathematical principles.

Familiarizing students with basic mathematical skills, Mrs. Ford taught her pupils general math.

As the 1979-1980 school year opened, seniors eagerly plunged into their last year of high school. Adjusting easily to school changes and new faces, these upperclassmen soon realized the actuality of their seniority. Club activities, sports, and school subjects accounted for only a part of the seniors' busy schedules.

Ordering graduation materials prompted many seniors to reflect upon their high school years. Familiar faces, spontaneous laughter, and shared tears provided each senior with timeless memories.

As the year progressed, seniors worked determinedly together in a united effort toward common goals. Anticipation of an exciting future combined with reluctance to leave old routines behind gave the graduating class of 1980 a true realization of the changes in their lives.

Juniors

Juniors entered the school year with much enthusiasm. Expectancy of new experiences and changes led many juniors to mature, as they realized that more responsibility rested upon them.

Standardized testing was an important part of the year. Preparing for the SAT, many of the students took the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test. Another new encounter for the juniors was taking the North Carolina Competency Test. Because the passing of this test is a necessity to graduate, juniors seriously acknowledged the significance of it.

Ordering and arrival of class rings was perhaps the most memorable occurrence for many juniors. Other activities, such as club initiations also provided much fun. Daily experiences—happy and sad—revealed to many juniors the changes occurring now and those which would come later.

Sophomores

Beginning their second year of high school, sophomores quickly settled in to the regularity of school life. As sophomores, they soon became involved in a variety of extracurricular activities, including club and sports activities.

Many students took academic courses necessary for college preparation. Also in forethought of college, some sophomores took the National Education Development Test. Students interested in vocational subjects took such courses as brick-laying, carpentry, and drafting.

Change was definitely apparent in the sophomore class. New classes, new teachers, new activities, and a more responsible outlook on life resulted in a successful year for the sophomore class.

Freshmen

Encountering more change at W-RH than any other class, freshmen enjoyed the new privileges of high school. Adjusting to a different kind of schedule, a different faculty, and new responsibilities, these underclassmen matured through everyday experiences.

Although the freshmen's schedules were centered mostly around mandatory courses, each freshman had one elective. Like the sophomores, many of these newcomers chose to take the National Education Development Test as a preparatory measure for this kind of testing.

Since club activities were somewhat limited for freshmen, participation and interest in sports occupied much of their time. Exhibiting much physical zeal, the freshmen participated in varsity as well as junior varsity sports.

Although change was a necessary part of the '79-80 school year for freshmen, these students adapted easily to the changes and became an important part of the school.

New students become important part of W-RH

Reminiscent of the change always occurring at Wallace-Rose Hill, several mentally handicapped students were accommodated into a new program designed to comply with new federal statutes. Because of the efforts of many people, these students fit well into the changing environment of life at the school.

Girls' and Boys' Monogram Clubs

Working diligently to prepare for the annual athletic banquet, the Girls' Monogram Club sponsored several fund-raising projects throughout the year. Such projects included the sale of key rings and the sale of spirit ribbons. Members of the club, along with members of the Boys' Monogram Club, worked at the concession stand during the football season. Probably the most enjoyable and amusing event during the year was the initiation of new members. Active throughout the year, the Girls' Monogram Club was a definite asset to the W-RH athletic program.

As part of their GMC initiation, Mary Susan Phillips and Antoinette Williams dance for courtyard onlookers.

Members of the Boys' Monogram Club donated much individual time and effort throughout the year in order to raise money for the athletic banquet. Working at football and basketball concession stands was one way of raising money. Members of the club ordered Bulldog jackets and held a club initiation for new members, an event which provided fun for the entire student body.

Active DECA brings

DECA was one of the most active organizations at Wallace-Rose Hill. Activities which DECA participated in included local contests such as public speaking and job interviews, district contests, district and state leadership conferences, and the career development conference in Miami, Florida. Other activities which they participated in were celebrating National DECA week and giving a dance. These many activities allowed D.E. students to develop leadership skills and acquire an understanding of vocations in marketing and distribution.

honors to W-RH

An active DECA brought many honors to Wallace-Rose Hill. Among these honors were Wendy Fussell's selection as District II President, Melinda Lee's selection as District II vice-president, and Connie Power's second place finish in District Public Speaking competition. W-RH DECA was also awarded the North Carolina DECA Membership Award.

Club members anxiously await results of district elections.

Sharon Johnson awaits news of contest results.

DECA members chose Wendy Fussell as Miss DECA. She also won Miss DECA for District II.

Annual Staff assumes responsibility

Striving toward the production of a memorable yearbook, staff members worked many hours. Raising money through the sale of spirit buttons, bumper stickers, and Bulldog seat cushions helped to promote the production of the annual. Other fund-raising projects included sock hops and the W-RH Annual Staff Radio Show. As the year progressed, staff members realized how worthwhile their efforts were, as various sections combined to form the 1980 REMINISCENCE.

Spanish Club stimulates language students

Playing an active role in the education of students in Spanish, the Spanish Club sponsored activities designed to help students learn more about Latin-American cultures. One of these events was a "pinata fiesta" for the introduction of new members. The Spanish Club also sponsored a float in the Wallace Christmas parade.

Spanish achievers enter SHS

Honoring those students who proved themselves talented in Spanish, the Enrique Jose' Varona chapter of the Spanish Honor Society was established in 1971 through the efforts of its sponsor, Mrs. Estrella Vega. Yearly, in a meaningful ceremony, the officers of the organization induct members who have an average of 90 or above in Spanish after one and one-half years of study.

FFA members learn farming skills

In many ways, the W-RH chapter of the Future Farmers of America served as a way through which students of agriculturally-oriented courses could serve their school and community. Besides having a chicken cook-out using chickens raised at school, they organized a community clean-up project and a car wash. The club also received national recognition in the national "Future Farming" magazine about their poultry-raising project.

VICA motivates vocational students

The Wallace-Rose Hill chapter of Vocational Industrial Clubs of America began the 1979-1980 school year by having various officers attend the District II Officers' Workshop in Laurinburg, N.C. Other activities which VICA has participated in included giving a Christmas party for the TMH students and conducting a Teacher Tour Day, which consisted of VICA members giving tours to various teachers throughout the shop. VICA members also attended the District II Skills Contest in New Bern, N.C.

Bevelyn Henry was selected as Miss VICA.

Wallace-Rose Hill Band performs admirably

Providing entertainment at football games and pep rallies, the W-RH District Band displayed musical excellence. The addition of a flag and rifle squad improved the band's appeal. On Band Day, band members participated in area competition.

Performing during a pep rally, the W-RH Band's Flag Squad gives an excellent show.

Band members play admirably for the student body.

Successful Chorus entertains community

Displaying obvious talents, Chorus members worked steadily throughout the year to advance musical skills. At Christmas, a unique concert revealed many hours of practice. Musical ability of W-RH Chorus members again became apparent as many won All-County Chorus honors.

Lori Marshburn was selected Miss Chorus.

Homemaking important to FHA members

Having approximately seventy-five members, W-RH Future Homemakers of America was very active in events involving the school and community. Besides sending representatives to meetings in Kinston and Raleigh, they elected a Mr. and Miss FHA, and observed National FHA Week. They also participated in many Christmas projects, as well as representing themselves in the Wallace Christmas Parade.

NHS honors academic leaders

NHS officers are Melanie Carawan, vice-president; Joseph Vilas, president; and Connie Wells, secretary.

Leon Robinson feels humiliation after being initiated into the National Honor Society.

Through various activities, the National Honor Society tried to improve school life. Some of their activities included a cupcake sale, the purchase of a floral arrangement for the teacher's lounge, and the club's assistance to Huyah ngoc Le, a new Vietnamese student. The club also gave a program to initiate new members. These new members, all juniors, were Matt Bray, Cindy Brown, Bart Brown, Brent Caison, Oscara Carter, Gene Duncan, Bobby Johnson, Ann Davis Oswald, Jane Phillips, Gloria Raynor, Leon Robinson, Robin Teachey, Tommy Uzzell, and Katie Wiggins.

The W-RH Math Club devoted itself primarily to introducing new mathematical concepts to its members. Many students enjoyed the new problems, which enriched their knowledge of the changing, yet constant, world of mathematics.

Club activities provide change in routine

Robin Teachey demonstrates DECA techniques.

Clubs were definitely an important aspect of the 1979-1980 school year. Leaders of various organizations brought important changes which allowed club activities to run more smoothly. Participation in these activities enabled students to gain personal satisfaction from worthwhile projects.

Outstanding girls' tennis team

Finding it difficult to improve on the excellent 1978 season, the W-RH girls' tennis team rose to the occasion by compiling a perfect record. They also sent one member, Kristy Montford, to regional competition in Goldsboro, N.C. Because of the large number of seniors, the team possessed a sense of maturity which helped it during the season. The team's fine play brought pride to the members themselves and to the school.

Although suffering a disappointing season, a changing football team, the varsity Bulldogs, gained a great deal from their experiences. In addition to the athletic skills developed, many members gained a closeness which lasted throughout the year. Two new coaches, Mr. Carl Brock and Mr. Dave Boyle, gave new ideas to this team of hard-fighting young men, whom the school supported throughout the season.

Youthful J. V. team works hard

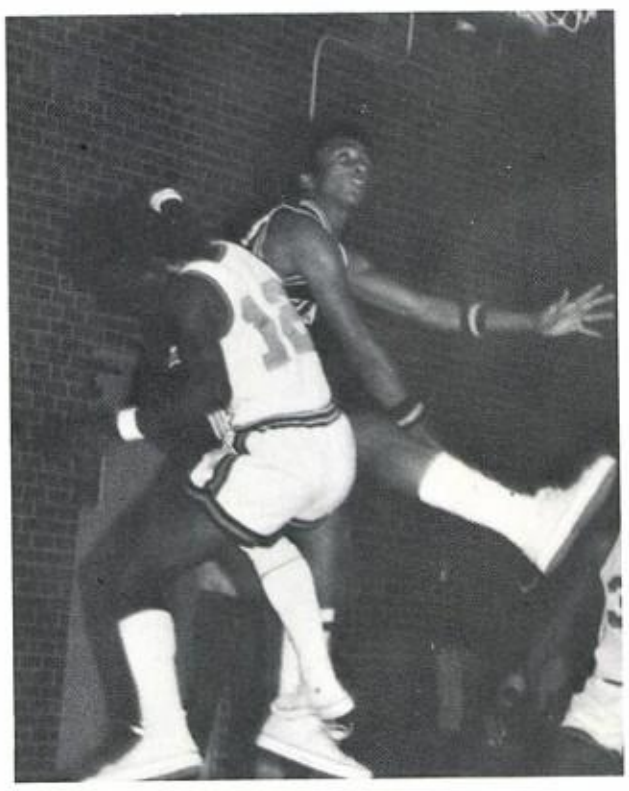
Michael Evans shows fine dribbling skills as he evades an opposing player.



After shooting, Franklin Lanier is fouled by the opponent.

Finishing second in conference rankings, the junior varsity basketball team worked hard for its many wins. A change in the athletic staff brought Mr. Carl Brock to the coaching position. Displaying much talent, these players showed promise for future varsity play.

STUDENT LIFE

Summer programs enrich

Kevin Updike and Reginald Lamb enjoyed representing Wallace-Rose Hill at a summer chorus camp.

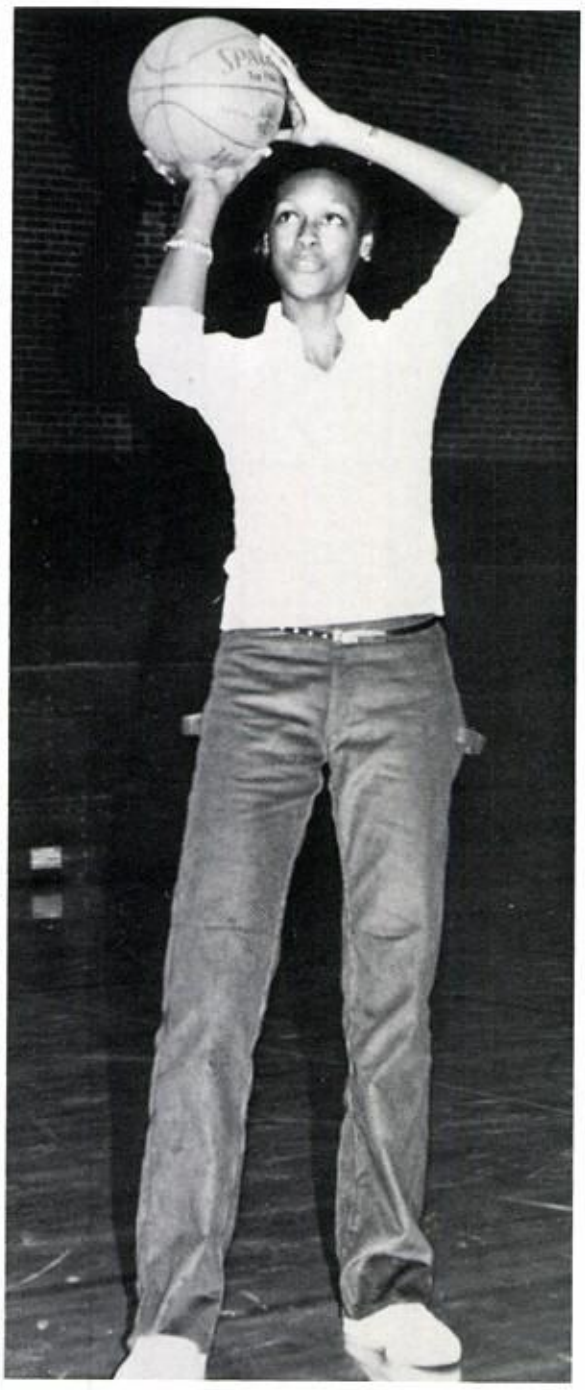
Edwin Wallace, William Newkirk, and Stanley Satchell learned importan basketball techniques at summer basketball camp.

educational opportunities

Many students brought honors to W-RH by representing the school in various summer programs. Whether academic or athletic, these programs allowed individuals to expand their interests. Change again became apparent as students returned with added insight and maturity.



During the summer, Gwen Austin attended basketball camp to improve her skills.

Definitely improving his abilities, Terrell Boney attended band camp.

Attending football camp helped improve Tommy Uzzell's skills.

After being selected DAR Good Citizen, Mary Susan Phillips receives an official insignia from her mother, Mrs. Lorraine Phillips.

Attending the prestigious North Carolina Governor's School enlightened the lives of Craig Fox and Joseph Vilas.

Students participate in local parades

Entertaining community members, the W-RH District Band plays in the Wallace Christmas parade.

Many Wallace-Rose Hill students appeared in the Wallace Christmas Parade. Among the units were the Homecoming float, the Spanish Club float, the REMINISCENCE car, and the W-RH cheerleaders. Providing entertainment for onlookers, the Wallace-Rose Hill District Band played a variety of songs. These students helped to make W-RH a part of the parade and to get the school involved in the community.

W-RH cheerleaders show their spirit while riding on one of many cars in the parade.

Representatives of the Spanish Club display unique types of Latin-American dress.

Student body enjoys spirit week

Lisa Stone and Felecia Horrell enjoy "ghouling around" during spirit week.

Dressing as Halloween creatures, Cindy Wellons and Jill Teachey enjoy Spirit Week activities.

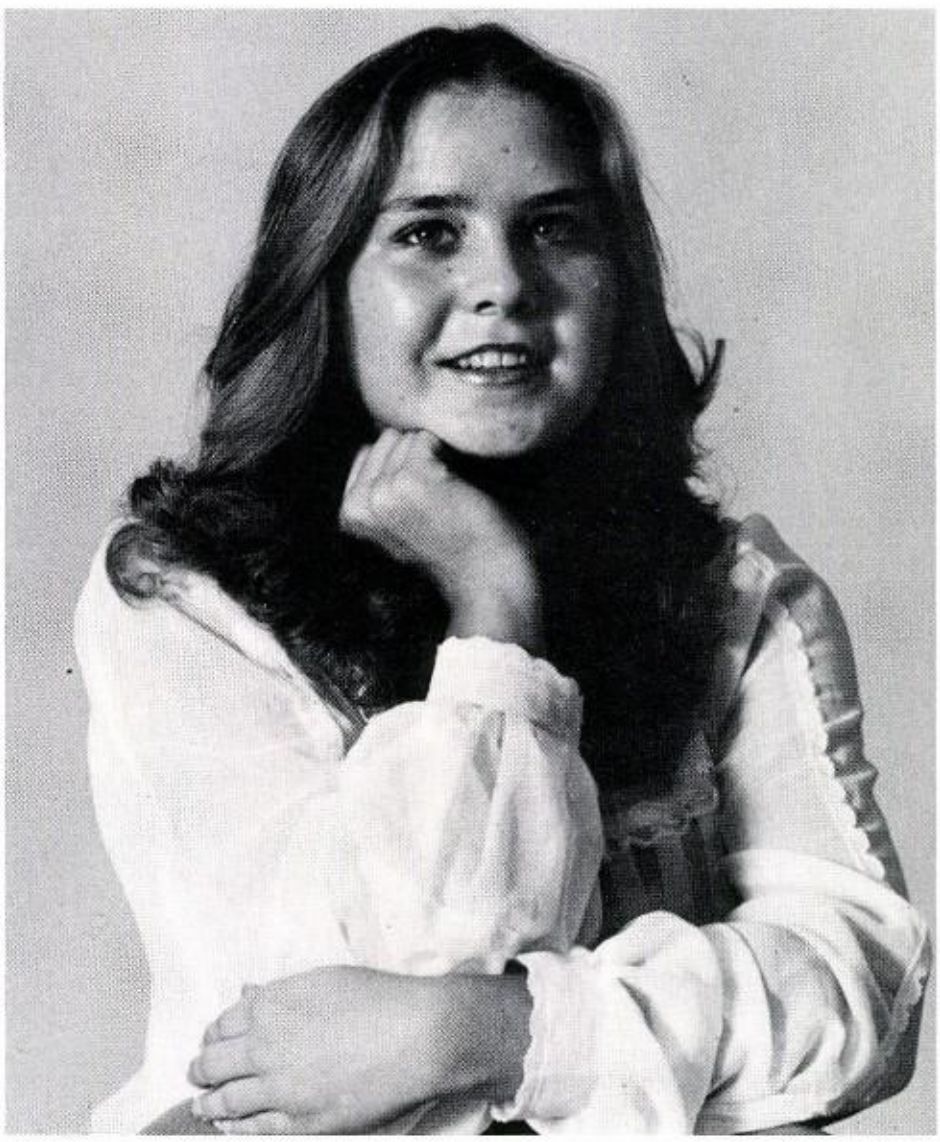
Students immensely enjoyed Spirit Week as they dressed up in various costumes throughout the week. Hat Day, Disneyland Day, STAR WARS Day, and Orange and Black Day provided a change for the entire student body.

Experiencing reversal of roles, Samuel Coston cheers the girls during the Powder Puff football game.

Besides the different days of dressing in costumes, a Powder Puff football game was held. Members of the Girls' Monogram Club played a game of touch football while members of the Boys' Monogram Club acted as cheerleaders. On Friday, a pep rally, the homecoming game, and the homecoming dance brought an end to another W-RH homecoming.

Underclassmen form important part

Respected by the freshman class members, Deatrice Williams had a special way of getting along with others. Her quiet, dignified character combined with her caring manner made Deatrice a unique choice for freshman attendant.



Outgoing and friendly, Sam Watson enthusiastically participated in a variety of activities at W-RH. Sam's other interests ranged from music to horses. She was definitely a well-chosen representative for the sophomore class.

Blessed with many talents, Lisa Mills possessed a special creativity which allowed her hobbies to expand in many areas. Lisa's carefree, amiable nature made her a natural choice for freshman representative.

of homecoming court

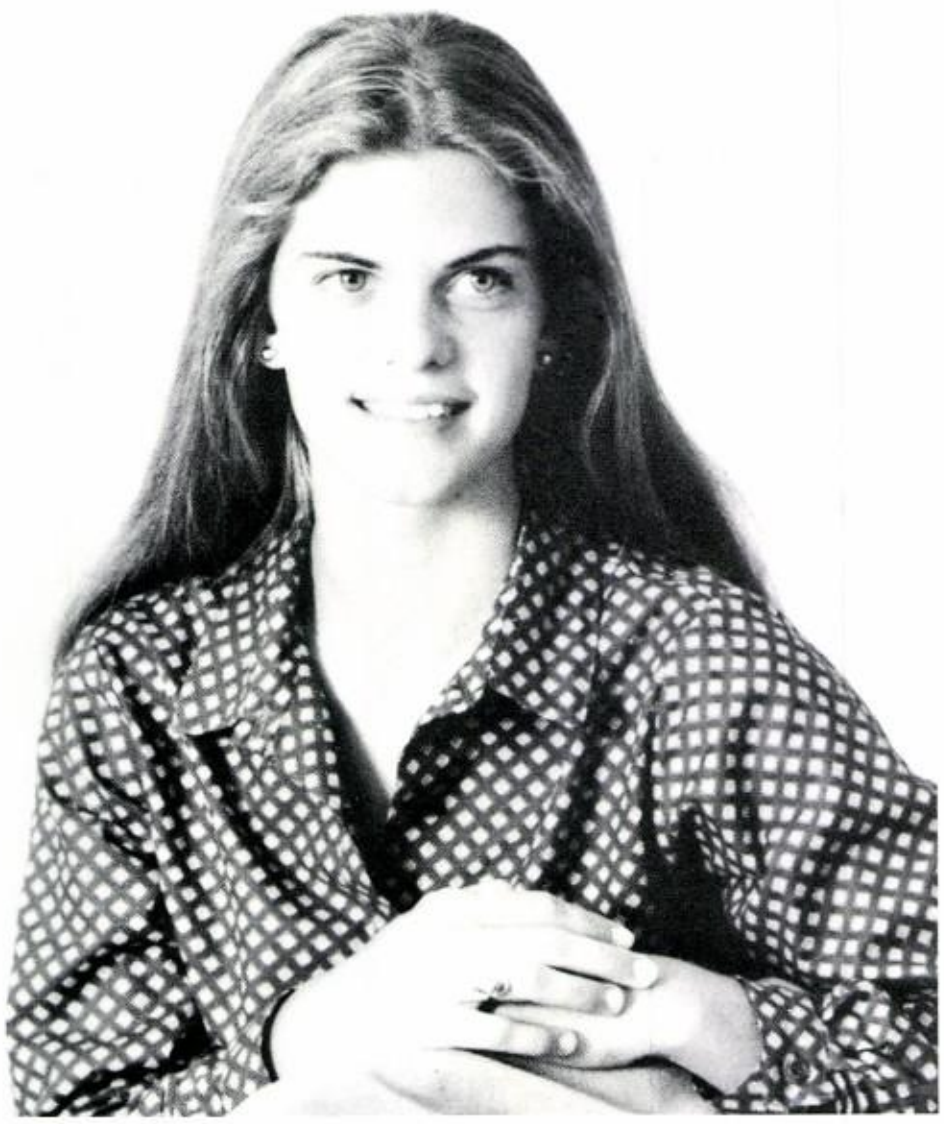
A truly involved person, Katie Wiggins participated in varying areas of school life. Calm and easy-going, Katie possessed a warm-hearted personality which easily allowed her to gain the respect of the members of the junior class.

Possessing a reserved manner, Angela Barksdale confidently strove for certain goals. Angela's self-assurance, serenity, and poise exemplified her leadership in the sophomore class.

Studious and dedicated, Jane Phillips revealed an optimistic outlook on life. Her natural charm became apparent through participation in school organizations. Jane's good-natured manner enhanced her personality as a junior attendant.



Beauty typifies members

Always ready to laugh, Wilhelmenia Chavis had a unique sense of humor which enabled her to make friends easily, Wilhelmenia's spontaneous smile and easygoing disposition enabled her to be selected as a senior homecoming attendant.

Poised Kathy Juhans exhibited a confident and versatile personality. With a serious and humorous side to her character, Kathy possessed a very individual charm which enabled her to represent the senior class well.

of homecoming court

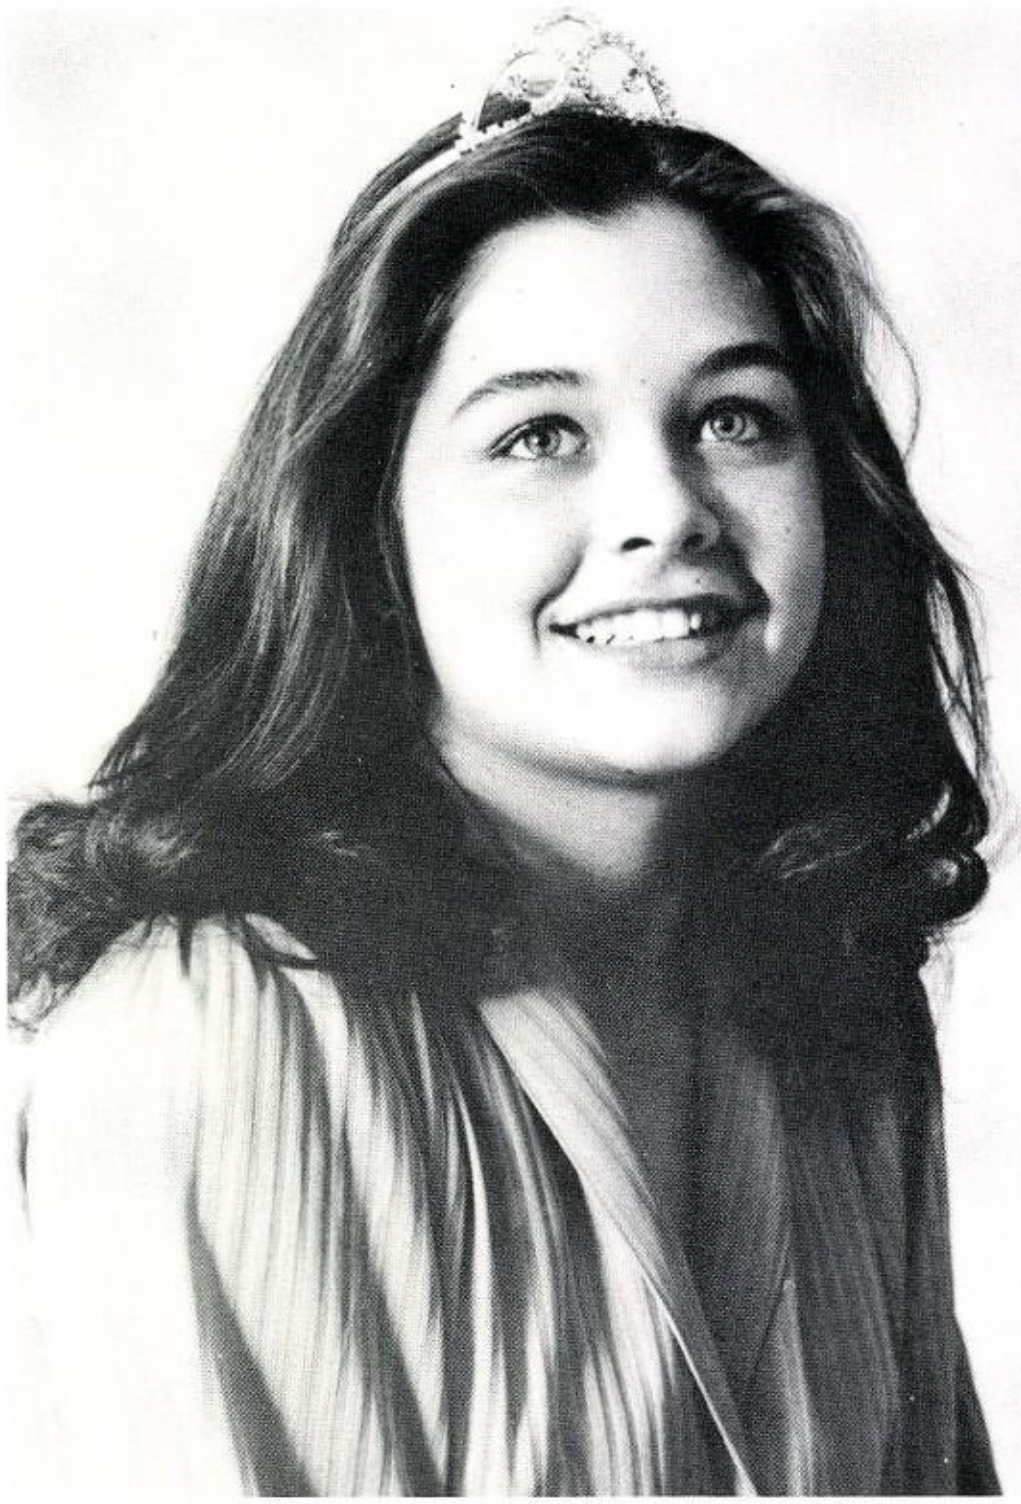
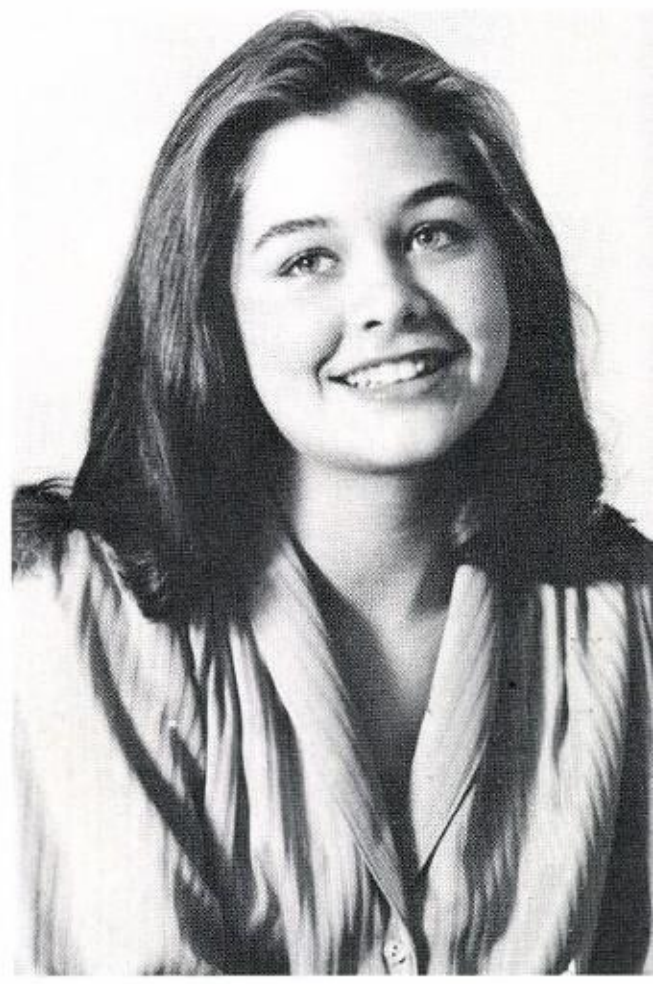
Wendy Fussell—Homecoming Queen



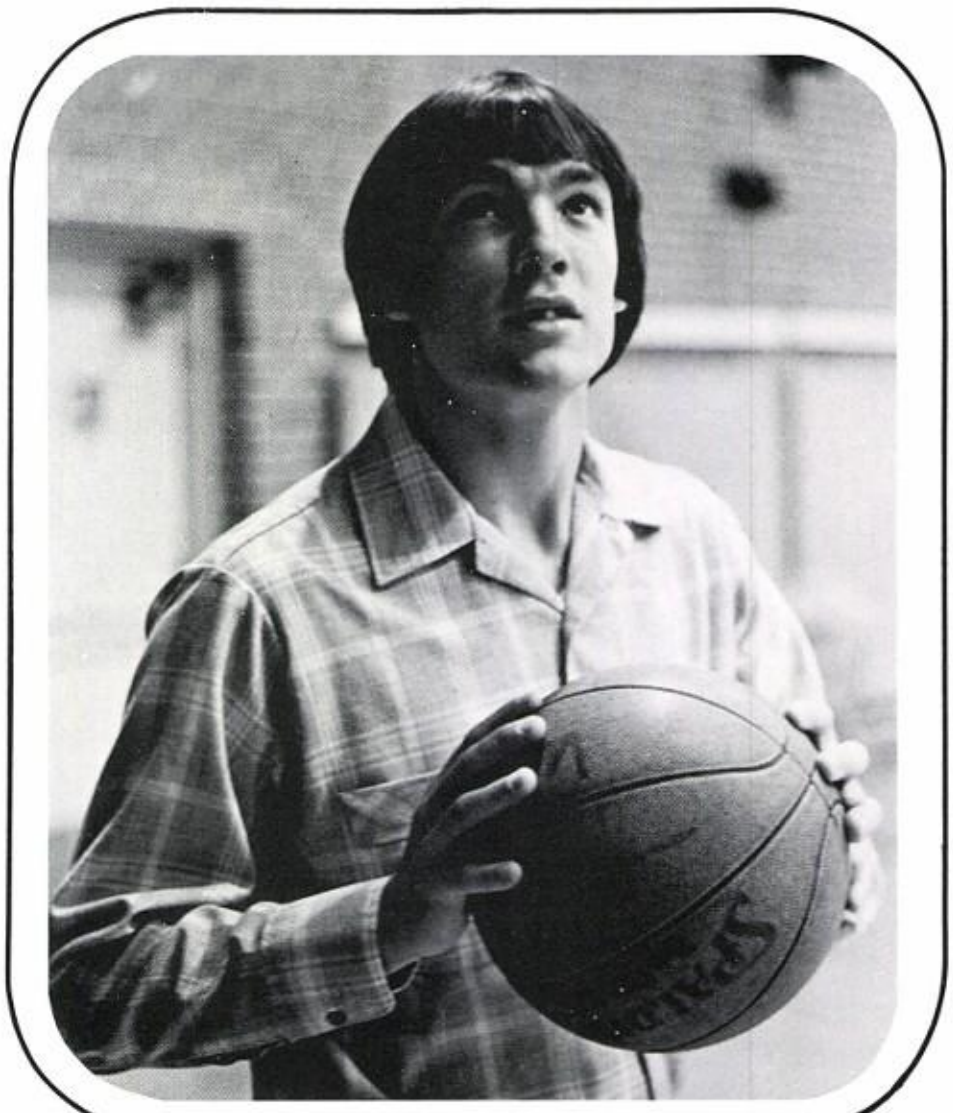


Lovely Wendy Fussell represented well the qualities of homecoming queen. Involved in various organizations, Wendy had many responsibilities throughout the year. Wendy's school spirit, together with her outgoing personality and natural beauty, made her deserving of this honor.

Peers select W-RH Outstanding Seniors

Possessing a unique sense of humor, Kim English displayed many outstanding qualities. Playing basketball and softball, she was an important participant in the W-RH sports program. These many activities, along with her friendly personality, earned her the admiration of her classmates.

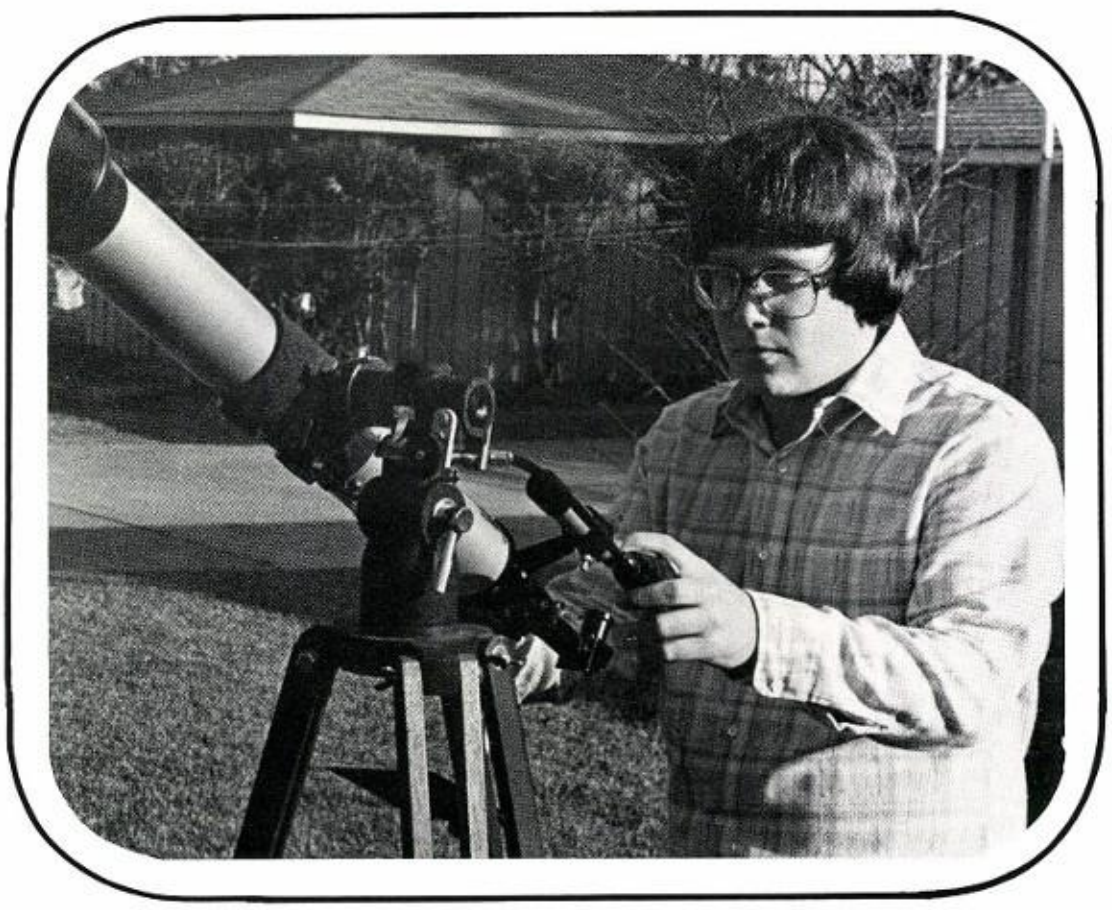
Outgoing, straightforward Terry English was a good candidate for outstanding senior. His talents in basketball, football, and baseball, combined with his agreeable personality, justified his selection.



Left: Being a popular person around the school, Samuel Coston was a natural choice for outstanding senior. He served as a co-president of the student council during his senior year, as well as being a class officer his freshman year. Samuel also had a pleasing, quiet manner, which many students appreciated.

Outstanding Seniors serve as

Enjoying many aspects of art, Wendy Fussell spent much of her free time expanding this hobby. Wendy was very busy throughout the year, as she served as senior class co-president and president of DECA. Her friendly personality and respect from classmates earned Wendy the selection of outstanding senior.



Interested in astronomy, Craig Fox excelled in the scholastic program at W-RH. He gained much from attending Governor's School in the summer. As the editor-in-chief of the 1980 Reminiscence, Craig constantly pursued a busy schedule.

Blessed with special charm, Helen Faulk had a friendly personality which made her a devoted friend to many. With an optimistic outlook on life, Helen was a well-chosen outstanding senior.

example for W-RH students

Talented and intelligent, Kim Mills was a fine selection for outstanding senior. Her friendly personality and high academic achievement gained her the respect of her classmates. Among her many interests were piano playing and singing.

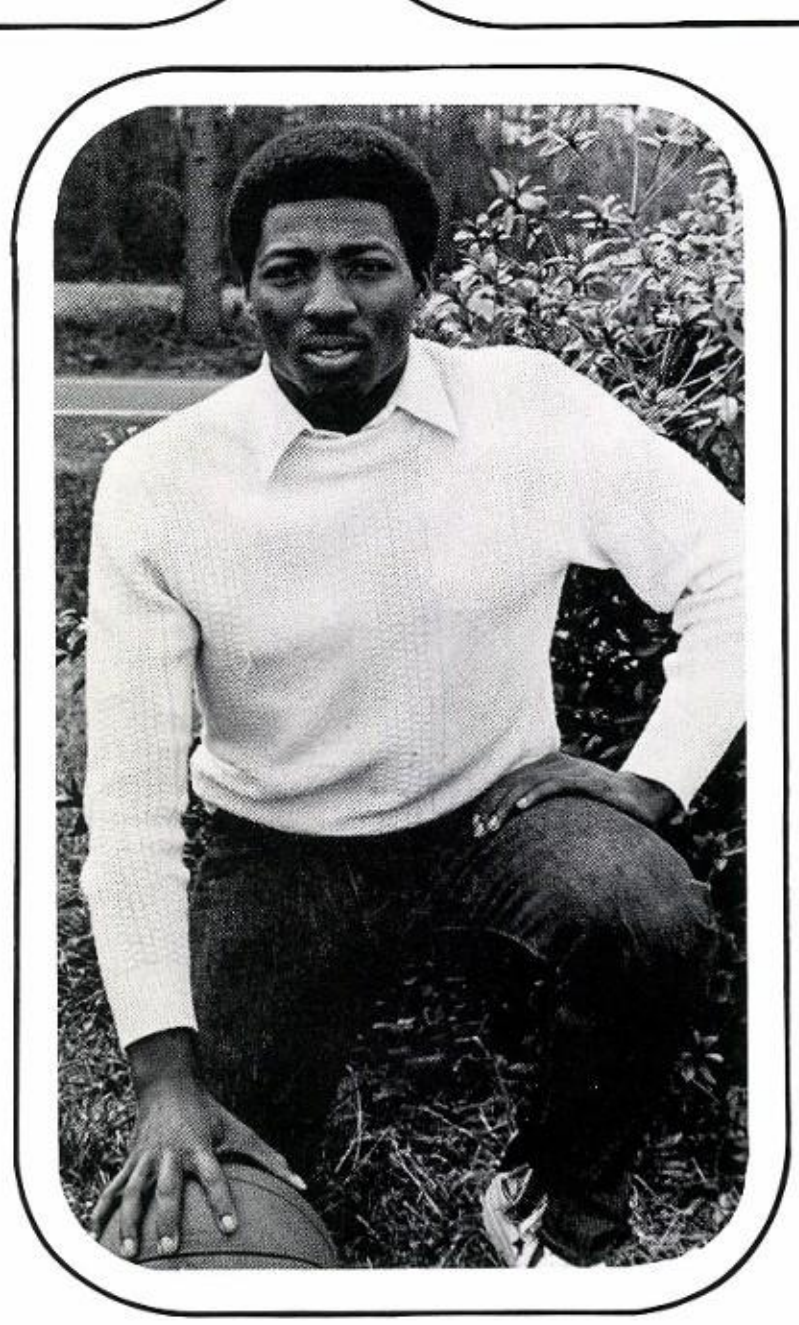
Having a special knack with a camera, Leslie Jessup was a definite asset to the yearbook staff as photographer, in addition to her job as business manager. Dedicated and loyal, Leslie excelled in academics and in sports activities as well.

As co-captain of the Varsity Cheerleaders, Sarah Kenan led spirited cheers with enthusiasm. Sarah's glowing personality allowed her to face every problem with a smile. Sarah served as secretary of the Girl's Monogram Club and as a Student Council representative.

Senior standouts exemplify

Straightforward and frank, Mitchell Paul exhibited many trustworthy characteristics. Besides excelling in sports, he was also a high academic achiever. Having a realistic view of life, Mitchell easily gained the respect and friendship of his classmates.

Enthusiastic and optimistic, Rita Page gained the friendship of many. Her natural beauty attributed to her being chosen as a homecoming attendant. Rita also served as president of the Library Club.



Looked upon as a leader of his class, William Newkirk's warm personality won him many friends. His athletic ability also helped W-RH to a winning basketball season. These characteristics made him a good choice for outstanding senior honors.

class of 1980

Gloria Sistrunk's quiet personality made her a confidant to many of her classmates. As a member of the Student Council and Future Homemakers of America, Gloria's interests extended in many directions. Her many fine qualities led to her selection of outstanding senior.

A very versatile person, Mary Susan Phillips was active in all aspects of school life. Ranking high scholastically, she played basketball for four years and served as co-president of the Student Council during her senior year. Mary Susan possessed a genuine love for horses, an interest which occupied much of her time.

Wanda Williams, a quiet, soft-spoken student was truly an outstanding senior. She was active in the Student Council, the National Honor Society, and many other important student activities. Her involvement in school activities, along with her friendly personality, won her the admiration of her classmates.

Scientifically-oriented Joseph Vilas spent much of his time endeavoring in academic interests. Serving as president of the Spanish Club and the National Honor Society engaged much of his time. As a copy editor for the yearbook staff, Joseph's unique writing ability became apparent.

Changing school life proves exciting

The 1980 REMINISCENCE staff would like to give special thanks to the following people for their support and understanding toward the production of this annual:

To Mrs. Dianne Wells, editorial advisor; Mrs. Laura Kenan, financial advisor; and Ms. Betty Sanderson, photography advisor; for their support and hard work in helping the staff to prepare this annual.

To our principals, Mr. Carlton and Mr. Jordan, for their cooperation with us. Also to Mrs. Faye Batts and Mrs. Annette Richards for their cooperation with our needs and requests.

To Mr. Jim Darwin, our Henington representative, for his help in the production of this annual.

To Mr. Darrell Nelson and other Rem-Pak photographers for their work with class pictures.

To Mr. and Mrs. Michael Fox, for the use of their home for Annual Staff meetings.

The staff once again thanks these people for their help. Without it, production of the 1980 REMINISCENCE would be impossible.

RECOLLECTIONS

Suddenly change and fear overwhelm me;
I'm on the threshold of a different life.
Will I see failure or success,
Happiness or strife?

Although the future is unsure,
I hold memories in my hand.
They are as unique and as many
As a thousand grains of sand.

I reach into the depths of my memory
To recall those unforgettable days,
When life seemed to drift by
In a pleasant, carefree haze.

So many of my hopes were fulfilled;
Many of my dreams became reality.
Then why . . . at this important time in my life,
Are my thoughts filled only with perplexity?

Friendship reminds me of promises
And shared secrets and exchanged smiles.
I remember tear-filled moments of sadness,
And laughter at the change of styles.

These reminiscences are indeed treasures,
Which will always remain in my mind;
For no matter what changes my future holds,
I'll never leave my childhood behind.
